Minimising Your Time To Maximise Your Return

A great benefit of the SecurWatch® managed service is to minimise the impact on your business and existing IT resourcing whilst at the same time delivering a valuable insight and tools to enable you to proactively manage your business and drive forward productivity and data security.

We understand that every business is different so we utilise our Consulting experience prior to deployment to ask questions that will quickly provide answers and to help us build a unique configuration suited to your specific business needs.

We apply that configuration to a Private Cloud based Server and deploy recording agents out to the computers within your business, this means little investment of time is needed from your IT resources and no disruption to your users because the agent is deployed remotely without needing to visit the user.

The transition from deployment to ongoing service is completely seamless for you and at the end of the deployment we provide a knowledge transfer experience that will demonstrate how to access and use SecurWatch® which further ensures you get the best return from the service. In terms of day to day operation; once live, we take care of everything.

By understanding your business needs at the outset, we're able to ensure we've defined clear objectives and key criteria that can then be applied and measured throughout the service lifecycle and will clearly demonstrate the success and benefits that are achievable from choosing the SecurWatch® managed monitoring service.
